

Mobile LED screens for exhibitions, conferences and training

Effective multimedia advertising create an interactive experience that keep severybody captivated and leaves a lasting impression

High quality LED screens for exhibitions and trade shows

Exhibitions are an important source of networking, new business and supplier relationship. Mobile LED screens provide the ideal solution for advertising and maintaining visitors attention. Screens will showcase products, services, interactive elements, and provide useful way of finding methods to display important information about the exhibition.

Mobile LED screens can be easily and quickly installed and are widely used in exhibitions for short-term or long-term activities, also for rental needs, because it's cost-effective and universal. Mobile LED screens can be adjusted in size and shape according to the needs of the exhibition, suitable for various indoor and outdoor locations, and can provide high-quality visual effects for exhibitions.

At the exhibition mobile LED screen can display pictures, videos and related information, so that the products can be displayed to the audience more intuitively and vividly. Through high resolution and realistic image quality, LED screens can intuitively display features and advantages of the product, enhancing the audience's understanding and impression. In addition, it can also enable the brand's story and culture to be better conveyed to the audience, and enhance brand image and awareness.

Mobile LED posters

LED posters is ideal choice to make your exhibition booth stand from the crowd. It is versatile as stand-alone display, or connected up to 10 LED posters together as a giant LED video wall. It is cost-effective, attractive, can be easily moved from one place to another.

LED screen trailers

Mobile LED screen trailers can be easily transported to different locations and set up in various places, providing a flexible solution for outdoor and indoor events or advertising campaigns, making them an effective tool for promoting products, services, events or brand awareness. Mobile LED screen trailers offer a flexible and powerful way to catch the attention of your audience, will create an interactive experience that keeps exhibition attendees captivated and provides a lasting impression for your visitors.

High Quality LED screen walls

LED exhibition wall is the eye-catcher at every event. It is an attractive option at trade fairs, exhibitions and events, because with a high-impact illuminated wall, exhibition stand immediately catches visitor's eye and puts your message directly in the field of vision of each guest.

Mobile LED screens at international exhibitions and trade shows

Mobile LED screens provides flexible and powerful way to catch attention of your visitors.